

of Woolseery

(Our Monday Arts and Crafts Club)

In October popular local crafter Jane Woolnough had everyone going a little potty over her well attended Flower Pot painting workshop held in the village Hall. Her creative ideas and relaxed method of teaching certainly made it a colourful occasion producing some very interesting designer pots. As always, with encouragement, even those who believed they lacked the required artistic skills ended up taking home a wacky item of art which they could be proud of.

Undoubtedly though one of the hi-lights of the afternoon was to welcome your very own Parkham Pie editor Graham Bridget, a gentleman with talent who seemed to thoroughly enjoy his time with us. Need I say more as he was the only thorn amongst 16 Roses. However, hopefully there will be a few more Parkham artists joining us in November, giving Graham some extra male /community support!

5th November 2 - 4pm

For those attending our next meeting there will be a choice of activities. If crafting takes your fancy, why not try out a variety of card making techniques with Jane or join Maureen Farley who holds a Foundation of Fine Arts degree and is passionate about promoting her interest being Painting / Drawing!

So no matter what your age or skill set is, there's an opportunity for all, like minded Crafty Devils to enjoy an afternoon of fun.

A special note to those newbie who wishes to give painting a go but do not have their own supplies yet. A selection of art materials, paints brushes etc will be available for use at a standard charge of £1.50 per session plus our standard entrance of £2. This covers refreshments and gives everybody a chance to chat and trade ideas whilst enjoying their tea/coffee and a nice selection of biscuits on offer.

Attention:-

If anyone is interested In forming a needles and pins group ie knitting, sewing or crochet, which would be part of the Good Companions, please contact Gillian 01237 431 448

5th November - enjoy a fun filled afternoon making beautiful Christmas Cards with Jane. There will be a charge of £1.50 for materials.

LOOKIING AHEAD!

3rd December - Enjoy a Christmas theme afternoon - Festive Table Arrangement and Napkin Folding with Tonia